February 20, 1930.

My dear Gertrude,

The American Express Co. has started a very good new plan by which one is notified the name of the ship on which things are sent and the date of the sailing of the ship. You will see from the enclosed post card that your things left Taku Bar on February 15th on the S.S. Washington and that they should reach the Pacific Coast about the same time as this letter. Hoping that you have reached home safely and that these things which I have shipped to you arrive in good condition,

Yours as ever,
John C. Ferguson
