Peking.

My dearest Mr. Murray Warner,

How perfectly adorable of you to offer so much help - personally I would have accepted it gladly & most thankfully as I quite agree with you about my husband's requiring a larger treatment than he generally allows himself - But alas he has his own ideas on the subject & while he deeply appreciates your immense kindness in making the offer, he feels he can manage without any further assistance than he is getting now.

He says a lady in Europe is constantly working for him & that he feels the benefit of her help - Between us she is new to Science & I doubt her having quite the power an experienced practitioner would possess. However there it is - my husband being a Scandinavian sticks to his own view of things with a tenacity a tornado would find hard to move. Luckily he is certainly much better than he was

He walks about in the garden again among his beautiful old marbles.
Albert is going to send off some of your curios by post which he deems is by far the best & safest way from every point of view.

Godfrey & I are now going by sail via Yokohama, leaving on Thursday morning 19th of April & due to arrive in Kobe at half past 8 on April 22^d (Sunday).

We propose to stay at the Oriental Hotel which I was told was very good.

It would be lovely if you were staying there too. I do so want to see your dear sweet face again & thank you personally for your wonderful kindness.

We were delighted with your friend from the "Resolute" she came to tea yesterday.

With much love from us all

Yrs gratefully

Alexandra S. Pennington
