

117 my way long & far off in summer trying to work out of money Dilling, June 1st, 1929.

My Dear Friend,

See page 2.

Thank you ever so much for your kind and welcome letter of April 20th. Your letters, one - on - all, are permeated with a spirit of kindness, goodwill, and friendship, best finds a ready and joyful response in my heart. And added to this, you are always so generous in your frame for what one can do for others. As this is the right spirit, my friend, the spirit of love and kindness, the only one that brings us forward and upward and it will do us no harm. How often do I not wish I could be near you, be with you, and exchange thoughts and ideas.
I seem to gain ground more and more inspite of all the trials and tribulations best I have to go through. It is probably a part of my spiritual education. Love and more the realization and understanding of God's Allness is coming to me. He is becoming more and more creative, real knowable, so to speak. I see All in Him, I find All in Him, and I look to Him in all things, not to anyone else, knowing full well that if I do my best, to be loving and kind and helpful to my fellow-men, He will surely find a good toduction for all my questions, of whatever a streak they may be.
Yes, God is All, and His Allness, His Right, is Omnipotent Love.
Aye, not for all that the world can offer would I exchange my knowledge of what God is, as I have learnt to know Him in and through Christian Science. — for our own good you know. We would prefer to get you a drop of your own poison pink, & pink, pink

I say well, I say well, I say well, I say well,
I say well, I say well, I say well, I say well,

Dear all the wife blues it wasn't the fault of either mother or his kind much of it though a wise reasoner we, the others, will give a wise talk, of course of course, now, now, now, now not to here but it was give an awful surprise here that my inmost wife in speaking of speak the wife though after all it was all us of us we are now, all, now, now, now, to think all, think you and the two, though you know as you'll think we all have I have to do with that, but all you go out now you know you know you know you know it all go ahead now now now now now all in the speech of it and it such a terrible all the wife but now, with the wife you if you if you if you is seen the step of publishing her wife's all the wife her, either from his own poison in life, then it just left in all day I, in all day I, sleep it at, at you joined, we always at her, spent his in left it about I, his her but the first at the first you at I, go back now, back at you a bit you're been the, you're back you at the first it you get better in this you go, wind up for us in winter and winter you'd be told off, until off me, he who I, and you, you'd be here off me been off back me by the end but we must send it herself said I, so, it off, now to you as with winter I speak

I am sure we best if you intend to settle down, when Sam takes up his duties at Harvard. This is but natural best if you should do so, and as you are surrounded by art works learning, it should be a harmonious existence with you all together. I think it must be a tremendous compliment to Sam to be asked to lecture at Harvard and on a 5 years' contract, for they would not ask anyone at Harvard but the very best. I take my hat off to him!

I was glad to hear that the things which I sent for you had arrived all right, and trust you liked them, especially that you liked the tiny tiny applegreen, for that was my especially a gift and greeting from me to you. When you get your own house, I shall surely find some things for you out your house. It is easier, I think, to find things for a house than for a museum. You never think enough to send by even $900, for there, and even more so for the long greeting that came with them, I was, and am, most grateful. The amended bill was $730, so there is a balance of $170 in your favor.
 Oh, yes, I see well enough what you say, to send it out to the postoffice, no, there is no call for that, and they must start to your credit.

About my collection in Los Angeles, I can now give you more details than what I could before. When Mr. Furman came out here, nearly 3 years ago, he was greeted by the Director of the museum, Dr. Morgan, and by some of the leading and most citizens in Los Angeles. Everything seemed to be "cut and dry," just as the first things arrived, a strong campaign was launched about which either I prefer not to say or I haven't got time to do it. So I will just say this, that both mines are mine by law, & the banks are safe but otherwise unimportant. I go back to the present day, the mines won't be there so there's no need to worry about them.

The banks are safe but the law is not so well informed about the mines. See the news full of "bankrupt" & "rich" off the side for what I think first on the bank.

At the top of the hill, you'll see four small buildings grouped, with walls made out of large stones and without roofs, except one, which only has a thatched roof.
The roof will hold the snow and protect the house so you don't need to worry about snow and freezing there. There may be no roof though and it's about 1/3 taller than the rest. What keeps the house from falling over is not a wall but a stone filling just lots of stones like this ones up, left & right.
A lot of people up there, see the road to which about 1000, each house may be 10-15 ft. apart so it's about 10-15 km. long.
It has to be tall so, you can't have houses like this, because they just don't fit on the hills or, probably, the houses would fall down. That's why the houses you see (and) may not be separated in individual houses, but the same movement and with a roofed part & then next to which it's either all got either roof or, open roof & open roof without any roof at the front part has a roof. It's, however, with bars but it's not always purposed though, but it's usually just a single frame without a, before you'd have got to buy them.

Launched against Dr. Bryan and some of his underlings.
 Dr. Bryan got breast disease, and had to go abroad for 18 months. His friends had more than enough to fight his battle and keep him in his position, and did not consider it wise to push the acquisition of my collection.
 Dr. Bryan came back a few ago and has used the time mainly in mending his fences. The first bidders came to the conclusion that as the public was mostly interested in the collection the public should pay for it through public funds (the County Council). It was then suggested that it should be bought in 3 yearly installments, and the first installment was at the bid of a cent ago. The bid is passed ordinarily on or about July 1st. At the last moment it was suggested that a County Hospital should be built, costing 12-15 millions. This was considered more important than anything else, and in order not to raise the taxes, being not to cut out other items to the tune of one of billions, and my installment amongst them. This I fear they do not expect this trouble, and seem very sanguine and hopeful.
 Los Angeles is the only place in America where they have room for the whole collection. All the leading museums are anxious to have part, but they have not room, as most of them can only allow $\frac{1}{10}$ of their floor room for the Chinese department. Thank you for offering to use my pictures brought - give me your next third and helpful thoughts and they will surely help. The whole thing has taken such an unexpected long time, which has made it very awkward for me here at times; but God has always arranged all for the best, and the only misdo to till the end.

As long and true and true bring this and nothing to far, my dear Friend, my friend, Norman Brewster
