Dear Gertrude,

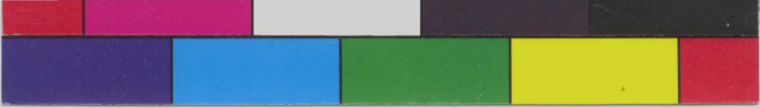

Under separate cover I am sending you lantern slides made from the photographs of the things which you bought at Peking during your last trip. I think that you will find them to have been very well made and they will be a marked addition to your collection.

We are anxious to hear about your arrival at home. We are struggling along here in the same old way and the essential features of the situation remain just as they were.

My wife and daughter join in love to you and in kind regards to your mother, to Sam and his wife,

Yours sincerely,

John
